The Georgia Commission on the Holocaust and the Georgia Public Library Service have partnered to bring the exhibit "Witness to the Holocaust: WWII Veteran William Alexander Scott III at Buchenwald" to libraries throughout the state on a 2014 Library Tour. This photographic essay highlights one of Atlanta's leading African-American citizens, William Alexander "W.A." Scott III, whose father founded the first black-owned daily newspaper in the United States – The Atlanta Daily World. W.A. was a photographer in a segregated battalion of the United States Army during World War II. His witness testimony draws parallels between the Jim Crow Laws and the Nuremberg Race Laws of 1935-1945 implemented in Germany and Nazi-controlled areas of Europe.
