Hollywood directors John Ford, George Stevens, and Samuel Fuller provided audiences with American cinema classics but their most important contribution to history was their work in the U.S. Armed Forces and Secret Services filming the realities of war and the liberation of Nazi concentration camps.

The exhibition, curated by historian and film director Christian Delage, was designed, created, and distributed by the Mémorial de la Shoah (Paris, France), and made possible through the generous support of SNCF.

Presented in Atlanta through the generous support of Victoria and Howard Palefsky, the Rich Foundation, Jackie and Tony Montag, Count and Countess Ferdinand and Monique Seefried, the Consul General of France Denis Barbet, and Dr. James Braude.
